 - (ii) the resources available to the court at the time;
 - (iii) the extent to which technical or scientific issues are raised in the proceedings;

 - (a) the defendant was a digital intermediary in relation to the publication; and
 - (b) the defendant had, at the time of the publication, an accessible complaints mechanism for the plaintiff to use; and
 - (c) if the plaintiff gave the defendant a written complaint under this section about the publication—reasonable access prevention steps, if steps were available, were taken in relation to the publication, whether before the complaint was given or within 7 days after the complaint was given.

Notes—

- 1 The defendant is not required to prove paragraph (c) to establish the defence if the plaintiff has not given the defendant a written complaint about the publication under this section. Subsection (3) sets out requirements for giving written complaints.
 - 2 Subsection (6) defines accessible complaints mechanism.
- (2) For subsection (1)(c), reasonable access prevention steps were taken in relation to the publication of digital matter if—
 - (a) for access prevention steps taken by the defendant—the steps taken were reasonable for the defendant to take in the circumstances; or
 - (b) for access prevention steps taken by another person—it was reasonable for the defendant not to take steps because of the steps already taken.

- (3) A written complaint is given under this section about the publication of defamatory digital matter if—
- (a) the complaint contained information sufficient to enable a reasonable person in the defendant's circumstances to be made aware of the following—
 - (i) the name of the plaintiff;
 - (ii) the matter and where it could be located;
 - (iii) that the plaintiff considered the matter to be defamatory; and
 - (b) the complaint was given using an accessible complaints mechanism for the plaintiff to use or given to the defendant in another way permitted by section 44.
- (4) A defence under this section is defeated only if the plaintiff proves the defendant was actuated by malice in establishing or providing the online service by means of which the digital matter was published.
- (5) A defendant who would otherwise be a digital intermediary in relation to the publication of digital matter does not cease to be a digital intermediary for this section merely because the defendant took steps to detect or identify, or steps to remove, block, disable or otherwise prevent access by persons to, the following—
- (a) defamatory or other unlawful content published, or sought to be published, by a person using the online service provided by the defendant;
 - (b) other content published, or sought to be published, by a person using the online service provided by the defendant that was incompatible with the terms or conditions under which the service was provided.

- (2) In defamation proceedings to which this section applies, the court may order a digital intermediary who is not a party to the proceedings (a non-party digital intermediary) to take access prevention steps or other steps the court considers necessary in the circumstances—
- (a) to prevent or limit the continued publication or republication of the matter; or
- (b) to comply with, or otherwise give effect to, the judgment, injunction or other order mentioned in subsection (1).
- (3) Without limiting subsection (2), an order under this section may—
- (a) require 1 or more steps to be taken; or
- (b) require a step to be taken in relation to all, or only some, of the users of an online service.
- (4) The court may not make an order under this section against a non-party digital intermediary unless the intermediary has been given an opportunity to be heard about whether it is appropriate for the order to be made.
- (5) Despite subsection (4), the court may make a temporary order without giving the non-party digital intermediary an opportunity to be heard about whether it is appropriate to make the order if the court considers it necessary in the circumstances for the order to be made expeditiously pending a subsequent hearing concerning whether a further temporary order or a final order should be made.

- (6) An order may be made under this section even if the non-party digital intermediary is not, or may not be, liable for defamation, including because of a defence, for the publication of the digital matter to which the defamation proceedings relate.
- (7) This section does not limit other powers the court may have apart from this section to grant injunctions or make other orders requiring a non-party digital intermediary to take access prevention steps or other steps.
