

From: Bronwyn Marsh
 To: Agriculture Resources and Environment Committee
 Subject: Mineral and Energy Resources (Common Provisions) Bill 2014
 Date: Tuesday, 8 July 2014 11:19:35 PM

email]

The Research Director
 Agriculture, Resources and Environment Committee
 Parliament House
 George Street
 BRISBANE QLD 4000
 By email to: AREC@parliament.qld.gov.au

Dear Sir/Madam,

Mineral and Energy Resources (Common Provisions) Bill 2014

My Name is Andrew Brigden and I am a 47 year old land-owner in the Goomborian District near Gympie . I have recently discovered that our property is within the boundaries of a coal Exploration permit and have been researching some of the issues over the last few months I represent my own opinions and concerns but feel that this submission template is a very good vehicle to have my say Thank you for the opportunity to make a submission to the Committee.

Even small mines may last for decades and have serious impacts on our finances, ecology, environment and society. Public objection rights are powerful rights to go to court, unlike mere consultation. Public objection rights to proposed mines are essential to enable the costs and benefits to be debated openly in Court and to deter the type of corruption exposed in New South Wales. I say do not change those existing rights under Queensland law.

So I oppose the changes proposed in the following clauses.

- Clauses 418 and 420
 These clauses remove existing community notification rights and rights to object to mining lease applications. Changing land tenure to allow for mining rather than another land use could impact on a broad section of the public. Therefore the narrow definition of an ‘affected person’ proposed, which would exclude neighbours or community groups or people in the water catchment, is absurd. Land use decision making processes for other industries provide for community submission and appeal rights, so there is no good reason why mining tenure should be exempt from this basic standard.
- Clause 245
 Limiting community notification and formal objection rights to the Land Court to “site specific” environmental authorities will, in conjunction with the above clauses, remove all existing public rights to lodge formal objections to the Land Court in up to 90% of mining projects¹ in Queensland. This is unacceptable and fails to recognise the positive impact of community objection rights. The same mining companies who want to limit public objections are often foreign owned. Suggestions by State government Ministers that objectors lodge frivolous or vexatious cases is entirely untrue, rather the opposite is true: there are no examples of such cases and objectors are very responsible. In the Alpha coal case (2014) the land holders and conservation group exposed that the mining company had a lack of hard data on groundwater impacts. Public spirited objectors went to Court and saved Ellison Reef (1967) from limestone mining and helped show the importance of protecting Fraser Island, now World Heritage Listed (1971).
- Clause 423 and 424
 It is inappropriate to restrict matters that the Land Court can consider and give these powers, such as to consider the ‘public interest’, to the Minister. Decreasing judicial oversight, increasing ministerial powers and shutting out community participation has worrying implications for corruption.
- Clause 429
 Removal of restricted land status when the miner is granted exclusive surface rights to access land removes one of the few rights of vulnerable landholders. No-one should have the land surrounding their house destroyed by an open-cut mine yet this would be possible under this clause.

I call on the Committee to approach the proposed legislation with a view to empower, rather than disempower, our communities to take responsibility for our State. In Queensland for decades any person or group has been entitled to object to any mining proposal in open court, to have the evidence scrutinised about the benefits and detriments of a proposed mine. I request that you do not accept these changes but instead keep existing provisions that require public notification of all proposed mining projects and that allow any person or incorporated group to object to all mining leases and environmental authorities on all the existing grounds.

Consultation Process prior to the Bill reaching Parliament

Please ask Minister Cripps to provide exact figures on how many of the 176 submitters to the discussion paper opposed changes to existing objection rights and detailed examples of alleged cases of vexatious objections. According to EDO Qld, at least 106 submissions of a total of 176 submissions on the discussion paper, from both rural and urban submitters, opposed the changes. Yet Minister Cripps does not report this key fact in p47-48 of the explanatory notes

I believe that this legislation is biased against landowners and believe that the environmental and social damage perpetrated by coal and gas companies far outweigh the profits.... eighty three percent of mining profit is exported overseas and the mining industry employ fewer people than either the tourism industry or farming in this country and, with the advent of the robotic truck technology pioneered in a joint venture by Komatsu and a Kimberly mining company, there will be even less workers employed.

I heartily recommend that the committee members take a genuine fact finding tour to some of the effected areas [not just the miners tour] and see if you agree that the companies require any more ability to damage the country

Once Aquifers are penetrated or contaminated and once the farming land has been rendered unusable, they cannot be repaired and are lost to future generations Does the Newman Government wish their principal legacy to be large holes in the ground and groundwater that can be ignited because I can assure you that the good works made in rescuing the economy will be rapidly forgotten in the light of the environmental destruction to follow if this legislation is allowed to pass

Yours sincerely,

Andrew Francis Brigden

[REDACTED]
Goomboorian Qld 4570
[REDACTED]