To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express concerns regarding the proposed Queensland Community Safety Bill 2024. This bill, while aimed at enhancing safety, disproportionately targets law-abiding citizens, particularly those engaged in legal and safe activities, including legal firearm owners.

Considering the significant impact of these amendments, it is crucial that the residents of Queensland are given more time to thoroughly review the bill and make informed decisions about its implications. An extension to the May 16th deadline is requested so all licenced firearm owners can review and provide feedback on the proposed changes.

As a concerned resident, I urge a re-evaluation of these amendments to ensure that any new legislation protects public safety while respecting the freedoms and rights of Queensland residents.

Sincerely,

Michelle Saunders
