The thing about it is we, we got to get a portal Loo, not enough toilets for all of us here and some of the other stuff we like [inaudible] and the rules, too Some were a bit too tough, but well, I don't know if it's a high care or low care because no one telling us what it is and because you got to, you got high care people here with low care. So I don't know what's going on. The porta loos after a while, you know people can't shoot straight and they get filthy and smelly and some of them miss the toilet and it's not very nice when you walk in. So you got to try to do best you can.
