Hey, my name's [REDACTED] Unfortunately I'm living at [REDACTED] at the moment. I don't mind what I'm talking about to be public information.

I'm hoping or trying to get another sils house at least or some other form of accommodation that's a little friendlier to my needs. NDIS has just helped me get another an interim mobility scooter to get around on, ahead of the time so that's pretty good, that's something I'm happy about. I believe this this place here needs quite a few upgrades like some air conditioning in the bedrooms, single room if I could get one but. I'm sharing the room so (I haven't got enough room to swing a cat). The food here is lacking a little bit in quantity and quality at times. I think I could cook probably better than the chef that they have. I wouldn't like them to actually know that.

For my $890.00 a fortnight I get, three kind of meals and the chance of possibly having a hot shower and a shared room.
