Good Afternoon,

I'm writing to voice my objection to the push to extend the emergency powers.

Due to the domination of Omicron the emergency is over. This is witnessed by the fact of hospital rates of admissions declining and deaths rates also declining from the virus.

It is now time to allow life to return to normal, for businesses to flourish, for the economy to start to improve and for individuals to make their own decisions in regards to health and welfare.

For further correspondence my mobile number is [REDACTED]

I am a resident of Queensland.

Regards,

Sally Kaczmarek
