Subject: No extension of state of emergency

Dear Sir/Madam,

Regarding the extension of Queensland's state of emergency, I can see absolutely no reason for an extension. Covid is no longer even a concern for the vast majority of Queenslanders. The only person who seems concerned is the state premier, and maybe the CHO.

Covid has never been a pandemic. It has been beat up by the Government and the media to instil fear to get people to take the jab and when that didn't work, the jab was 'mandated'. Maybe the state of emergency should actually be changed to a natural disaster in light of the flooding in the State.

Regards
