Please don't extend the state of emergency, the fear of a major pandemic has passed. A real pandemic is people dropping dead in the streets! You kept the virus out so the hospitals wouldn't be over loaded, good job but now is the time to encourage things back to normal.

Society is getting so segregated, families even being torn apart by these mandates. The virus in most cases is a bad cold or flu. There is no justification for further emergency powers. Elderly people have been dying from the flu for generations. Somehow this virus got totally exaggerated and people having been living in such terrible fear. It's time the fear stopped.

We have enough worry with the awful floods and war in Ukraine, focus on them.

Yours sincerely
