To Whom It May Concern;

As a Minister of Religion and resident of Southport, Queensland, I implore you to vote against the extension of the Emergency Power Bill for an extra 180 days that the Labor Government's Health Minister, Ms Yvette D'Ath, has tabled in the house. These Emergency Powers should be stopped now and not extended. The damage that has already been done to young children compromising their health and learning ability through mask wearing, the loss of jobs in the Health Industry of good upstanding citizens, the loss of good experienced teachers and other staff in state schools and loss of volunteers to help with reading, tuckshops etc, as well as businesses in the hospitality industry and staff needed to man them has been absolutely criminal.

This is just the tip of the iceberg as mental health of people of all ages in our state has risen to epic proportions, let alone the number of people I have had to counsel because of loved ones who have committed suicide.

Now we have floods in our state, to add to the mental health condition of so many who have been down the flood road previously.

No amount of money thrown at people can heal mental health.

Stopping the mandates and allowing people to get back to some normality will. The people are at their wits end so these State of Emergency Powers need to be blocked and I am counting on you, to vote against this Bill.
