To those debating the Extension to the Emergency Bill

Both my husband and I are extremely concerned that this proposal is being debated.

We have done extensive research regarding many issues to do with the "pandemic" and are very strongly against the Extension of the Bill.

Now that we know the insignificance of the current Covid variant, little more than a common cold/flu for most people here in QLD, and with the current "protection measures" in place, there is absolutely no justification for any extension at all.

The only reason that this Bill would be extended would be to extend the levels of power and control that the "elected" people have over the general population. The Government is supposed to be of the people, for the people, we strongly question if this is so, though with an impending election there is an increase in media coverage showing the "good" of the Government.

Many people are quite swayed regarding whom they will elect...wisdom would suggest that you listen to, and consider the ground swell of voices of the people!

Thank you
