Please I beg of you stop the madness and stop the emergency orders. I hear of NO-ONE contracting the virus now. It's run it's course and you are creating more harm than good. You should be turning your focus now to all the suicides that have increased exponentially due to your orders.

I've never seen so many people literally hate on politicians like this in my life. Most Australians just put in the same pls vote each year and follow what their parents did but now you've created a whole new story in history where there is zero trust in government - zero!

Bring back some level of trust and appreciation by putting an end to all of this NOW.

If you don't it's on your hands, all the suicides and mental health issues.

Hoping and praying for change,
Robyn Arnold
