My name is Jenny Baudinette

I reside at [REDACTED]

I am responding to the above bill which the government wants to extend until the end of October.

The necessity does not exist.

There is no requirement to extend a Public Health order as Covid-19 is no longer the threat to Public Health as it was when the Bill came into effect.

The Omicron variant is highly contagious but from a family who have had the latest variant, symptoms are very mild and not life threatening.

Mask mandates and contact tracing are also gone.

Queenslanders need to get back to a more normal life, free to work and socialise without government restrictions.

Please do not extend emergency powers.

Yours sincerely
