We wish to express our deep concern at the way the community is being divided by the action of the state government in trying to enforce vaccinations for Covid 19 upon society.

The democratic right of freedom to choose is deliberately being denied and eroded by segregating society to vaccinated or unvaccinated.

This government jackboot approach, reminiscent of the 1930's in Germany, is an affront to our democracy and free society. Many Australians have fought and many have died to maintain the freedoms we so much enjoy.

Politicians need to be reminded that they are public servants. We, the people, pay their wages. We are not second class citizens and are quite capable of making our own decisions. These edicts emanating from government on the benefit of vaccination, segregation and lock downs being compulsory, have been challenged by highly qualified doctors and scientists. Their opinions are treated with contempt by government and the media.

These decrees have ruined families and businesses and will bankrupt the nation. The major beneficiaries to these vaccinations are the drug companies.

There is absolutely no need for any extension of the Emergency Bill as the only emergency was created and exaggerated by government.

Keith Ronald and Beverley Ann Rix.
