To qld government

There is no longer a health state of emergency and the qld government seeking to extend the current state of emergency by 6 months is not warranted by any measure of consideration based on the fact that the omicron covid 19 has nearly eradicated all other variants. Endless restrictions and mandates are causing endless harm to our society and should not be continued. An SOE can be applied for again if such circumstances come in the future that warrant severe measures. Not it is time to remove mandates and get sacked workers back into the system and protect people from vaccine harm which is not reviewed or discussed but is prevalent and unnecessary, especially as the vaccines are ineffective and wane at an extraordinary rate.

Regards.
