To whom it may concern

Extending emergency powers in Queensland is an insult to the intelligence of your voting population, and a corruption of your duty as a representative of the people. Under the guise of a false threat, government officials have distorted the context of the leadership responsibilities bestowed upon them and forsaken basic human liberties. You have denigrated your people and must be held accountable. We say NO to the Emergency Extension Bill to the end of October - these powers have been proven to be redundant and threaten the wellbeing and livelihoods of Queensland citizens.

In concern,

The Delben Family
