To whom it concerns

It's my belief that the legislation we have is already sufficient, however people do not understand it or take action appropriately. You will see in my summary that I feel education is the answer, not further law!

Since the Greens submitted this bill, Labor have come out and advised that they will also be submitting one. I don't have a great deal of hope that it will be any better than what the Greens have done, although we shall wait and see.

I have also reached out to some contacts of mine, who have colleagues in the big 4 banks, as I am sure as the largest stakeholders in property, they would be interested in seeing some of these proposed changes.

Kind regards,

Nikoletta Neal
