

their decision making authority, and essentially their control over the asset they've worked so hard to acquire.

I urge your government to reconsider these damaging reforms, in favour of laws that offer safety, security and stability to landlords and tenants alike.

Yours sincerely,