Hi. You need to make all remote Primary schools to grade six only and ensure that all students go away so that they have the chance of a proper education as well as sporting and other opportunities. The handful of students who stay behind in small rural schools miss out on all of these opportunities.

The Government is spending considerable money in employing teachers for very few secondary students at these primary schools. This money that the government would save and could be better spent if these few students went to boarding school.
