

Education (General Provisions) (Helping Families with School Costs) Amendment Bill 2023

Submission No: 21
Submitted by: Jane Minor
Publication: Making the submission and your name public

Attachments:

Submitter Comments:

Queensland's expenditure on education is among the lowest in the country. If we want future generations to cope with challenging conditions and to enhance our society, they need to be educated in order to be prepared. Investment in education is the best investment in the future economy that this government can make. I urge you to support the Education (General Provisions) (Helping Families with School Costs) Amendment Bill 2023. I would also like to point out that making financially assisting private schools who are already well funded does NOT make good economic sense when there are state schools that could better use the funds.