I strongly appose this bill, The Australian curriculum is NOT the only and certainly not the best curriculum that my child can learn from. The Australian curriculum is the reason why I chose to homeschool in the first place and I will not be forced to use it. This is government overreach, I have huge concerns that this bill is the first stepping stone to remove our rights as parents to homeschool our children. The government has no right to choose what and how my child will learn. What is stopping the Australian curriculum from being altered to include radical political agendas? control education, control a nation. I will not be voting Labor in the coming election if this goes through.
