Marxism is responsible for the deaths of over 100 million people worldwide, far more than any other foul, evil and damaging ideology. It has no place at all in a peaceful and prosperous nation like Australia, which is only prosperous due to CAPITALISM. Furthermore, educators have no right to brainwash unsuspecting children, who they are in a position of care over, with vile and sick ideologies such as Marxism itself and all the trash that flows forth from wherever it infests. There is no greater damaging and undesirable failure in political history than Marxism, and there is no greater harm an educator could do to a child than to molest their minds with woke trash and poison their curiosity towards the world, replacing it with a bigoted hostility to all things healthy, natural, and successful. It is the responsibility of the government to ensure the wellbeing of its citizens; to the politician reading this - that's your job. Ensuring Australia gets infected by woke Marxist maniacs will only repeat the failures of the past, and eventually have us all suffering in a hellish collective, starving to death like brutalized 3rd world peasants under a totalitarian regime. That wouldn't just be a grossly negligent failure by the government to do its job, it would also be a crime. Keep Marxist maniacs away from kids!
