Further restricting and regulating homeschool curriculums defeats the entire purpose of homeschooling. Many children do not mentally, socially, emotionally, or physically fit into the conventional schooling system and thrive in child-led, interest based and driven learning frameworks in their home where they feel safe and supported. Homeschool is the last safe haven for children left behind in the conventional schooling system, you are robbing these children of their potential and their happiness by strong arming homeschooling families to conform and abandon the needs of their children. Leave homeschooling families in peace, they left the schooling system for a reason- because it doesn't work and it's bad for their kids.
