I oppose the proposed legislation changes as it is not right to have homeschoolers to follow the same curriculum as schools as it is proposed. No thoughts have been given to reasons for people to homeschool their child/children. My points are: If homeschoolers have to follow the same curriculum as schools they should receive the same funding for each child as public schools. Homeschoolers should receive the curriculum for free including support if needed. There is no provision given to children with additional needs and all children are classified the same. The proposed changes need to be reviewed and consultation with homeschooling groups and organisations should be considered.
