

Education (General Provisions) and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2024

Submission No: 1164
Submitted by: Darian Schultz
Publication: Making the submission and your name public
Attachments: No attachment

Submitter Comments:

To whom it may concern I as a homeschooling parent do not agree that any government official has the right to advise me on how to best educate my child. I do not agree with the current education system and the way it pushes the left agenda and believe that the only way to protect my child from this is to homeschool. The government has no right to push the national curriculum onto parents as current statistics show that some 60% of children attending school cannot read or read at a very low standard. I can assure you this is not my child. Until the government sorts out its agendas around pushing the ridiculous gender policy's and sex education policy's then we will have no choice but to homeschool. Governments are elected by the people to work for the people not to dictate and to rule and run our lives. As parents we have the best interests of our children at heart and I for one will not adhere to any policies that you try to push through to restrict this. Your sincerely Darian