To whom it may concern, RE: Homeschooling legislation I am writing to express my reservations regarding the changes to the legislation as it applies to homeschooling. Currently, my grandchildren are being homeschooled by my son and daughter-in-law. The decision to homeschool was made by them because they felt they could educate their children better than the current education system. It is obvious to me that they are doing extremely well at providing an education for my grandchildren, and I don't understand how these changes will benefit them further. My son is worried about the changes and the effect it will have on how my grandchildren will learn. I've noticed that this is a significant point of stress for my son and his family, as it is going to cause a lot of extra work for them with no obvious benefit to my grandchildren and so this worries me too. This is why I feel it is really important for me to make a submission to have my voice heard too. I urge you to consider what the impact of this legislation will be on my son's family and others like him.
