Submitter Comments:

Parents should be able to choose a curriculum that works for their child, they know their child best, their strength and weaknesses. Neither do they have another 30 students to teach, so an understanding of the student may be shallow, compared to a parents. The National Curriculum is designed for large classrooms of children, not for a personalized teaching environment. As more students are now being home schooled, Instead of making things more prescriptive for homeschooling families, perhaps the Government should review the school system and find out why so many students are leaving it. Why change what is working? The current registration and reporting system are working well, there is no need to change it.
