Home schooling is better education than the current curriculum. All it is doing is being taught to be woke and about [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] doing sexual dances towards kids. It needs to stop. The state curriculum doesn't even teach history, religion, even proper English and maths. All it teaches is to be respectful to trans or lgbt community and everyone is a winner. But in reality you are just dumbing down kids so easy to control with technology. Who going to build houses roads, bridges, any infrastructure? You noticed the age of tradies now. The young generation just cry if they do hard work. Home schooling teaches the real world and the reality of good hard work and to tell the wokeness of out so called politicians who are just puppets to the elites. Be careful as you keep making silly idiotic rules and policies there will be a time us civilians will turn around and just take back our rights and turn on the elites and politicians. It's not far off now. It's closer than you think. So stop this and leave home schooling decisions to the kids parents as they know best not [REDACTED] politicians.
