To whom this may concern, This is to inform you that we as parents object to the proposed changes to homeschooling in Queensland. Our concerns are: Our child is a creative, sensory child and do not learn in the conventional schooling environment. We know this fact as we have tried a number of different teaching styles including a class room style. To which our daughter have regressed until we realised that she learns better when focusing on her interests in a hands on approach. As parents we have the intuition to love, nurture and create an environment of learning to fit her specifically. We do not need nor want any constraints on how to teach our child to become a responsible valued member of society. We are already adhering to the Australian standards through HEU and do not need to have that changed. This change will affect our child and us very negatively. It will cause an immense amount of stress and pressure and no one learns well under those conditions. " It is only in the presence of loving, respectful, trusting adults that children will learn all they are capable of learning, or reveal to us what they are learning" - John Holt
