Submitter Comments:

Parents should be able to choose a curriculum that works for their child. The National Curriculum is designed for large classrooms of children, not for a personalized teaching environment. Our son has Autism and needs our personal support so he can learn without all the distractions from main stream school life that don't have the resources to do that in a way that is in his best interest. The current registration and reporting system are working well, there is no need to change it. Instead of making things more prescriptive for homeschooling families, perhaps the Government should review the school system and find out why so many students are leaving it.
