Firstly this world needs less govt intervention not more. The government injects itself more and more into the lives of real people and students each day and education standards drop every year. Schools don't teach things like survival skills, food growing skills, Christian values or even how to benefit in the finance world or even real law. Perhaps the government should examine itself and ask why do so many people no longer trust the government with their kids. Parents and guardians should have the right to choose what's best for their children because the government could never care or love children the way parents do, the government fails in nearly aspects it meddles in, leave the kids alone and stop trying to control everything.
