Instead of making things more prescriptive for homeschooling families, perhaps the Government should review the school system and find out why so many students are leaving it. Parents know their child best and know if it is the Childs best interest to be home schooled. Other people will not know the true needs of the child. Some of the things at school that are new to the curriculum go against my religious beliefs and I did consider homeschooling, but my children have a brain and have a great moral compass installed so they can make up their own minds.I do not agree how children can identify as something other than themselves. (eg I identify as a cat). at least if you home schooled my child would not be witness to this rot. Also when the Covid-19 jab was made compulsory, it made a lot of parents scared for their children's welfare and I did consider homeschooling if vaccination was made compulsory.
