My cousins have been homeschooling for many years. I am in my 20s and watching them thrive academically is incredible. They truly are amazing kids, and i really believe that is because of them being homeschooled. I plan on home-educating my children one day in the future so I am writing a submission to say i am against these proposed changes. Proving you need to homeschool? Well, that just sounds like a human rights issue there. Forcing the full curriculum and reporting on all subjects without even giving a yearly academic certificate seems very one-sided. You give no funding or support to these homeschoolers and now you are asking this of them. Kicking people when they are trying to do the best for their children in this hard economy.
