Hi I wish for the government to let us raise our own children as we have our own rights as parents to raise a child and choose what we feel the best solution for education is whether it be home schooling, private school or public school we pick on which is a best fit for our child whether it be about religious beliefs, the want for our children to have a better education than what the public school has to offer, to avoid discrimination, bullying, sexualising, the public school system at the moment seems like a toxic dangerous environment that I would not choose for my children I feel my child has better opportunities with other methods of schooling, which is and should always be my choice as it is my child when the child grows and wishes for other forms of education whether they were going to a public or private school and want to be home schooled I would support and consider the change as it our rights as parents to offer different options and decide what will be best or visa versa being home-school and wanting to try going to public or private school It is our choice as parents to make decisions with and for our children in the best interests of our children as we know our children better than any government department I do not support this bill we have parental rights and would like it to stay that way
