Hello, I object strongly to the legislation regarding homeschooling. I'll keep my point brief. One part states "if in the best interest of the child" as a precondition. Who decides what's in the best interest of my child? The government?! No. You are taking away my parental rights. IF there was a major study done or widespread research showing homeschooling being highly negative (all markers prove the OPPOSITE) then maybe you can make a case to impede on our parental rights. You have no leg to stand on, this is gross infringement on our parental rights. This is our children not the government. Thank you, [REDACTED]
