To The Government Committee,

My name is [REDACTED], I am 10 years old. I am voice typing this letter, it would take me ages to write it. I am writing to you because I don't want the changes to my homeschooling that you are trying to get through. I went to real school and I struggled because I could not write very well, I could not remember things and had trouble remembering the teachers instructions. I was bullied at real school by the kids and the teachers were rude and disrespectful to me. Mum and dad chose to homeschool me and it's what I really wanted to do.

I have learnt so much sense schooling at home mum and dad are patient and kind. They spend lots of time helping me and catching me up. I don't have to sit at a desk all day. I can learn in the shed, or paddock and even in the tractor. I do 3 1/2 hour lessons a week with a tutor. Miss gold is a retired teacher she is amazing if I am having trouble understanding something she helps me. She is kind and helpful she knows I don't understand things as quickly as other kids sometimes and spends more time to make sure I get it.

I spend lots of time catching up on the English and my handwriting. I am nearly caught up on grade with my maths. I learn about history and science on the road travelling with my mum and dad's business we visit museums and historical sites I learn a lot about history. Just last week we passed through Injune it is a amazing town with lots of history there was a old sign that said livery, I researched to learn that a livery was actually a stable where coaches and horses could stay when they traveled. I also did on line cooking lessons last year that was fun and I likes cooking dinner for my family. Dad and I just spent time rebuilding an engine together in the shed.

I love farming, I love to see crops grow and learn about the science of soil health and Weed control. I find the farming machines and equipment very interesting I love the history of how farmers used to farm and how easy we do it now with all the technology. With mum and dad's business we travel and see all soil types we plant, spray and harvest crops such as wheat, sorghum, chickpeas, mung beans, Barley, and sunflowers.

I think these changes will stop me from being able to focus on my maths and English where I need lots of help. My mum and dad know me and they know what I need to do to learn and how to help me become the best farmer when I grow up. They have helped me more than the school. And that's why I think you should not change the way that we can homeschool.
