Hi my name is [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Being Homeschooled is awesome. I've been homeschooled for the past six years, and learnt so much. I've read over a thousand books, and done more things than you can possibly comprehend! So far this year I've pulled apart bikes and rebuilt them. Learned about engines, pistons, gears and how they work. If I'd been doing the Australian Curriculum I never would've learned any of those things.

The Homeschool community is accepting and doesn't care if you're wearing brand name clothes or not. While kids at school have alot of peer-pressure to be and act like people that they are not. While I can be whoever I like.

While at school I was bullied, and nothing was done about it. I told the teachers, and they laughed at me. I was also bored, as I would finish all my work in the first ten minutes. I couldn't learn anything interesting or fun, as I could only do work at the "other" kid's levels. Life [REDACTED] at school, but being Homeschooled is awesome. I get to learn and have fun without having to spend six hours in a classroom.

If "YOU" make me follow the Australian Curriculum I'll have less time to follow my dreams and hobbies. Please don't make me waste my time doing pointless and totally useless stuff while I could be pursuing my dreams.
