Great state. Great opportunity.

We know that 'Business as usual' is not an option

Renewal includes our response to the Commission of Audit

- More services, better services
- Value for public money
- Contestable services

The primary responsibility of the government is to ensure services are delivered, not necessarily to be the agency that actually does the delivery. It needs to be the 'enabler', not the 'doer'.

Queensland Commission of Audit, Feb 2013.

Contestability is key to delivering better services

- Contestability is the process of reviewing our services
- The focus is on ensuring the best possible service is provided at the best possible price
- We constantly challenge the status quo
- This means ensuring services remain contestable
- Encourage efficiency and innovation – whether the service is delivered by the public, private or not-for-profit sector

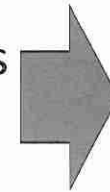

Contestability is the exposure of a business, or business functions, to competition or the credible threat of competition

Contestability can deliver a range of outcomes

Government is actively seeking new,
creative ways to deliver services...

- Joint ventures
- Restructuring
- Outsourcing
- Keep and improve
- Payment by outcomes
- Building a market
- Managed services
- Mutuals
- Ceasing the service

...to ensure Queenslanders get the best service at the best price

Best available evidence shows that contestability delivers a 20% productivity dividend.

New approach to delivering social services

- Housing – at least 90% of social housing to be managed by community housing providers by 2020
- Child protection – support families and keep children from entering the child protection system with increased role for non government sector
- Education – Independent Public Schools reduce red tape and give principals, parents and school communities greater say over how their school is run
- Disability services – revitalising front-line services to deliver greater individual choice and control, and working with non-government sector to prepare for transition to NDIS
