

From: Ray Booker
To: Finance and Administration Committee
Subject: My submission on the Industrial Relations (Restoring Fairness) and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2015
Date: Tuesday, 12 May 2015 8:59:06 AM

To: Members of the Finance and Administration Committee

I write to make a submission on the Industrial Relations (Restoring Fairness) and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2015.

I urge the committee to recommend passage of this bill without delay to ensure that the rights of public servants and local government workers are restored to them.

The Newman LNP government was elected in 2012 having made clear promises to respect rights at work and the collective bargaining framework. The government broke these commitments and removed protections for job security as well as many other basic rights, amending legislation often late at night with no warning. Thousands of workers and their families in Queensland suffered as a result of the removal of these protections, which directly caused the loss of over 20,000 jobs in the last three years.

I know a number of these people who left, still too young to retire are still unemployed. The pressure almost got too much for a friend of mine, a career public servant. That scared the hell out of me. And I will never forget the shriek of horro that echoed through the office from a young lady who was unexpectedly told she was "denecessary". And the tradgedy was she wasn't. We can never have a process of work redesign that isn't based on workloads and staff requirememts. Arbitrary 205 reductions for the sake of it are not the way to do it.

The right to organise collectively to achieve better working rights and conditions is a basic human right. The Newman government undemocratically curtailed this right and as a result lost the 2015 Queensland election. At the election a majority of Queenslanders supported parties and candidates who advocated a restoration of these basic rights for workers and for a restoration of certainty in our state and local government services. Respecting the wishes of the people is the job of government.

Please respect the voice of Queenslanders and the rights of workers and vote to restore fairness by supporting this bill.

Yours sincerely

Ray

Ray Booker

