Dear Sir/Madam

In regard to this bill which proposes serious changes to the current situation with regard to abortion, I ask you where are the rights of the unborn child? You would have to agree they have none.

In a political sense - do you really want to be the government to introduce such atrocious changes into our society. It is disastrous for all. For our society, for the mothers and for the unborn children.

I understand from surveys that have been done in the past, that if a woman has an abortion she is scarred psychologically. So what, if any, work has been done by your department to ascertain the effect of this Act on the mothers.

In ancient civilisations children were sacrificed to appease the so called gods of the day. I ask myself where is our civilised society heading by this Act.

I urge you to reconsider and not to bring this Act into effect.

Regards

Rebecca Ball
