I respectfully submit my objection to the Abortion Bill.

An infant in the womb is a living being. Studies reveal the wonder of conception and growth in the womb. It has often been claimed that a woman has the right to choose what happens to her own body, but what about the body inside her womb that is not hers? What right does she have to choose death for the unborn baby? The baby in the womb is the child of both the biological mother and biological father, and it is a unique and distinct human being. Please give that new person the right to choose life.

If this bill becomes law, we run the risk of another 'stolen generation', not just 'stolen' but lost forever, never to be found, never to contribute to society, never to enjoy the rights, freedoms and privileges that we Australians take for granted.

Please give the unborn babies the right to live and to choose.

Yours sincerely,
Esther Jane Ganter
