Dear Parliamentary Committee member

I am writing to ask you to reject the Abortion Bill that has been considered as a new law for Queensland.

I don't think that anyone should have to face being killed in life, whether they are a prisoner, homeless person, wealthy magnate or the unborn. Everyone should have a chance at life, even if some lives seem better than others.

It is not right that mothers and doctors can decide to abort a baby at any point for the sake of convenience, gender selection or pressure. A mother should love her baby and always be supported in how she can get through tough days. Life is tough. But taking the easy way out by aborting an unborn baby at any stage of pregnancy only teaches the woman and society that life is not valued and neither are those who are fully dependent on others.

There are many other ways of helping a mother deal with an unwanted pregnancy than by suggesting an abortion. That unborn baby is just like you and me. What if our mothers had aborted us? It is not natural to even think about.

I ask you to please reject the Abortion Bill completely, and find new ways of making all unborn babies valuable again. At least adopt unwanted babies out if their mothers and fathers cannot learn to love their own flesh and blood. But don't practice abortion. Then there will be hope that this little person will grow up knowing that their own life is precious too.

Thanks for your consideration
Craig Waddell
