Dear MP

I would like to let you know that I'm opposed to this new law.

I can't understand how the current legal system can condemn murder but at the same time our Government wants to legalize murder of the most vulnerable of all, namely unborn children. You do not condemn this and don't consider the emotional impact with flow-on effect this would have on the mother of the murdered child.

If you want to argue for human rights, I then question the rights of the unborn human who has no right at all. Is this equality?

However, my main reason for opposing this is because I am a Christian and murder is against the commandments of God.

Please reconsider this to protect those who don't yet have a voice.

Your sincerely

Linda de Beer
