Hi,

I am writing to voice my concern with the proposed Termination of Pregnancy Bill 2018.

My wife is 24 weeks pregnant and I just felt my baby kick for the first time, my wife has felt the baby moving for several weeks now. So the baby is alive. My question to you is when is it ok to kill another human?

It isn't ok to kill a baby in its cot. So why are we considering it ok to kill a baby in the womb?

Just because other states and countries have legalised the abortion of baby humans, doesn't mean it is right or wise. There are other options, like improving assistance and health services for pregnant women and early childhood families. Improving assistance and removing red tape for adoption.

Thank you for your consideration

Mark Hughes
