To whom ever it may concern, I'm a 61 year old man, who along with 76% of Queenslanders according to a Galaxy poll, am totally against this horrendous inhuman bill. How did we come to this? How can we permit a political agenda to be the cause of the destruction of thousands of fully formed unborn children? Do you politicians ever put yourselves in the position of these precious lives? What if this had happened to you - what if you or your own children had been [REDACTED] All the hopes and dreams and accomplishments that could have been - just the chance to live and love and be loved... gone before you even had a chance to draw your first breath. This is a disgraceful bill that should never had seen the light of day. Think of this... what would the politicians who are trying to push this through, think about someone who had a pet dog who just had six puppies, and the owner killed three of them because they were female, or they didn't particularly like their colouring, or just because they felt like it (social reasons)? They'd be outraged - as they should be - but to do this to human beings is fine and acceptable. NO IT IS NOT ACCEPTABLE! I don't know if my points are "acceptable" to this committee, but I'm speaking from my heart and for those little ones whose voices are trying to be silenced by this monstrous bill. Surely we are better than this. Please don't let this bill be passed, because as sure as the sun rises every day, we as a society will surely be diminished and our wonderful state and country will forever slide into the moral abyss if this is allowed. We need to abort this bill - not our children!
