My husband Robert Rogan and I are very strongly protesting and deeply upset that the present Queensland government would even consider allowing the murder of living, yet unborn children even up to end of their gestation term.

In the name of morality, decency and any form of compassion in the slightest degree, do not do this! We do not agree in any small measure with any government legalizing the killing of unborn children.

We implore you as responsible, law abiding, citizens and voters of this fair country (married for 49 years to one another, with a family and grandchildren) do NOT go against the helpless, voiceless, unborn children. This government has absolutely No mandate, no right at all, to go ahead with this incredibly evil action.

God help this country and those who vote for this, if the government does go down this road. Each and every person is ultimately accountable for every action they commit.

Kind regards
Robert and Betty Rogan
