How low have we sunk and how much lower can we go.
We rely on refugees and illegal migrants to make up our population growth to make up for the number of people who die naturally.

We make up some excuse, involving the environment, that natural birth is a danger to our society. We have some highly morally sounding reports about violence and how bad the perpetrators of this violence are.

Yet, we have a Bill to commit violence at will on our youngest form of human life. Just remember, violence begets more violence and we can go back to our own legislators for the cause of it.

Each and everyone in our Parliaments. When you vote on this Bill, just keep a picture in your mind of the little baby in or out of some unfortunate woman's womb, torn about by your decision if you vote for carrying through with the contents of this bill.
