Re: Submission on Abortion Laws by Rob Pyne

In regards to this submission I would like to voice my response by Rob Pyne who seems to love killing the unborn baby which is a human life no matter what stage it is. He seems to have a complete disregard and respect for the future generations of Australians yet to be born. Who knows that child could have just the right makeup in their future life to provide a cure for the world with cancer or be the next Prime Minister. Who are we as human beings to make such decisions.

I oppose the bill before parliament which removes all protections and puts in no safeguards for Abortions. It is inhumane and immoral to think one has the right to life and another doesn't who are we to choose? Playing God is not the answer. I have had 2 abortions in my life the first to a child with spina bifida which totally devastated me and set me spiralling into guilt and a silent depression. The cost of this is astronomical on society to the health and welfare of Mothers who have no it seems other way out at the time in their minds. We should support and educate and mentor with counselling by specialists these Mums not kill their child. For years later the mothers of these children go through mental torment over what they have done in a place of what seems like desperation. There is a decision to be made but it is not this one by a man who has no idea of the ramifications of what he is trying to do. It is with such disregard that he would even suggest such a submission and I would hope the Parliament would seek Gods counsel if behalf of the women in this state and Country. If you vote for this be on your guard because nothing will go well for you in the future when you play God.
