

From: [REDACTED]
To: abortionlawreform
Subject: Abortion in Queensland
Date: Monday, 27 June 2016 4:45:20 PM

To who it may concern,

I am just writing to voice my concern over the changes to the current abortion laws. The question should be asked when does an unborn baby become a living person. Just because it is unable to survive outside the womb does not mean it is not a human being in the same way that children should they be left to their own devices would be able to survive, also many adults if they would be deprived of society would not be able to survive if left to their own devices. So every class of people could be put in a situation in which they would not be able to survive if they did not receive support and help from others. So as a society we should support and care for those who are amongst the most vulnerable and who do not have a voice. If as a society we legalise abortion with no safety measures and checks then what will the next step be? We have many examples from history where, firstly abusive governments used their power or secondly (to a much lesser degree) incompetent/indifferent governments, failed to exercise their power which then resulted in the untold deaths of millions of people. During your enquiry into this matter and your ensuing report please take into consideration the above mentioned points.

Kind Regards
Marek Czudek of: