I have been made aware of the proposed changes to the abortion laws and I do not support these changes.

There is clearly no consensus to change to the law, except that Queenslanders overwhelmingly want safeguards introduced to protect women.

The position of pro-choice advocates, that babies around 30 weeks aren't viable contradicts all those parents (and medicos) of premature babies, and is an illogical argument.

It is apparent that as a society we have chosen to save these babies of this age, not end them.

Later term abortion is hard to comprehend.

Thank you
