Hello,

If abortion of a human being at any age is legalized then it is inconsistent to have laws protecting the unborn child when it is killed by the actions of someone other than the mother (e.g. speeding driver).

In the first scenario, the mother of the unborn child is protected when she chooses to kill her child.

In the second scenario, the life of the unborn child is protected by law when someone else kills the child.

How is infanticide consistent with a country such as Australia which prides itself on the care of the vulnerable and innocent?

But I feel that the greatest destroyer of peace today is abortion, because it is a war against the child, a direct killing of the innocent child, murder by the mother herself.

And if we accept that a mother can kill even her own child, how can we tell other people not to kill one another?

[Mother Theresa 1994]

Thank you,

Sue Taylor
